Dear Guest,

For many years, Henne Mølle Å Badehotel served as a cultural-radical retreat for city dwellers. At the end of the gravel road, guests would check into the seaside hotel to enjoy its unique location surrounded by nature and its truly special sense of peace and tranquility.

The hotel was designed by the architect Poul Henningsen in 1936. His vision was to create a sanctuary that would blend as naturally and discreetly as possible into the dune and heath landscape along the North Sea coast.

Henne Mølle Å Badehotel has been furnished with great respect for Poul Henningsen's distinctive style. Everything from the chairs to the lamps was designed by the renowned Danish architect in order to preserve the hotel's original atmosphere.

Enjoy your stay & Bon appétit!
